Which do you prefer? AMD or Intel? ATI or Nvidia when it comes to Gaming? Which car do you wanna drive, BMW or a Merc?

Now, for both Teams, the Roles are clear:

We all know that NOD is evil. So NOD uses the Intel/Nvidia-Combo and drives luxury Mercs.

On the other side, GDI are the good. They use AMD-ATI and drive BMW (Beemers).

I chose these combos because the most people combine Intel+Nvidia where the others choose AMD+Ati. The decision between two Car Manufacturers was personal ^^ I drove a BMW, it was sportier + less thirsty than a similar Merc -a good car.

Then I decided to transform my thoughts into Skins. Feel free to DL them. BTW, you can easily change the reflogos, just exchange their names. In case you are using Intel+Ati... like you see on this picture.

Yes you can. The Logos should not affect custom vehicle Skins. BTW, they only appear on non-flying vehicles.

I think yes. Intel + Nvidia are more powerful, but when it comes to pricing, nothing beats AMD + ATI. They are cheaper and only a bit less powerful.

Enough OT ^^

i would have said amd-ati being 'rebels' against the 'corporate' intel-nvidia.

making nod (amd-ati) rebels against the big and power gdi (intel-nvidia) but meh..

I'm a noddie so I'm glad its Intel-Nividia vs AMD-ATI. I have a Dell with a GeForce 6800 (to play Reborn and BF2).

AMD might be less powerful, But most ATI cards are packed with raw power, developers just can't be arsed working with it's architecture.

Try playing Half-Life 2 Episode 2 with a ATi Radeon X550 (Or any Source engine game) You'll see what I mean.

Well, Nvidia is leading with the best graphic card on the market currently.

Also most their cards are cheaper then the money ripping ATI. Also Nvidia got an cooler logo ;P

And for cars I would say.... uhm... Dodge >;) or chevy. Any muscles and I'm happy.

Chevrolet Corvette ZR1 > Dodge Viper ACR > Ford Shelby Cobra GT500KR

ford loses by massive amounts of letters and numbers.
