I have not played Renegade in a while and earlier today when I get on, it won't let me play online. It says operation timed out.

Did Renegade shut down or is it me?

Do you think it might have to do something with the serial number?

No, it would show a different message if it was serial/nickname related issue.

Never had this problem unless WOL/xwis was down.

Could you check if your firewall or windows firewall wouldn't be blocking it?

Could you check the solution mentionned in the FAQ sticky on this question:

Problem:

I go on renegade and click on "multiplayer internet", then on "westwood online". When i log in, no servers are found and a message at the bottom says "no game servers found at this time".

Nothing works.

I just reinstalled it and it didn't even ask me for what name I wanted to use. Right now it won't even let me get a nickname.
