EDIT: I mean no disrespect, I am just curious if you are purposefully using "leet speak", or if these days people are just too lazy to type complete words anymore.

It could simply be he's unable of using his mother tongue correctly. There's a big gray zone between being unalphabetic and being able to correctly write your language. No disrespect intended to anyone.

As answer to your question: www.cncgames.com (RA den) has some extra co op missions. There are also standard co-op missions in RA2 / YR, you can access them by choosinbg a map and choosing "co-operative) or something like that.

Scrin warning + 1: if you got nothing to add, then do not add anything! This includes plecos, dots or even spaces...

@ssnipe: You place them in your RA2-directory, where else?

Not many maps are made in this style for yuri's revenge or ra2...

most of the fan maps are fast build etc.

People who want new co-op maps are a minority. But Good Luck !
