According to one poster here, you can throw the C4 directly up and it will fall back down and land on your head. I haven't had a chance to test it out myself, though. IMHO, I think the "suicide bomber" tactic is probably a bug.

i did that with my friend 1 planted the max C4 on my friend and he went next to a harvester and i blew the charge the harvest was left with like 1 or 2 bars of health. planting proxy mine on stealth tanks or soldiers are cool drive up or run next 2 an infantry and they die not knowing why sometimes....
