Ok...

seeing as this thread serves no purpose I'm going to throw in the fact my internet connection got upgraded yesterday (without a technical hitch, thank God...) and I now have about 500 KBPS up and 5MBPS down. Much more fun. I didn't notice the image was 1MB because of that, lol

If that were true, I'd be dead already.

Plus, if I ever did say that, it would seem both you and your "brother" have a horrible time understanding sarcasm.

Just keep one account, for Chrissake. It's no big deal. Hell, MSWindows is the better one, because plenty of people think your 'Elite Officer' account is a total R-tard anyways.
