A rocket bike would be SO fun to play with, it might have a weak attack but it goes so fast and has such a small profile that it would be almost impossible to hit.

it was the first vehicle I wanted to try out in Renegade due to the fact it was small and was extremely fast. I've seen pictures, but they said it was more like a tank then an actually bile. It'd be so cool if it was added later.

I remember somewhere that they took out the Orca and Recon Bike because when they reached their maximum speed, the fps went up so high that the server screwed up. It was either here or on cncrenegade.com's forums.

Just make the recon bike have very weak armor.

I think nod should get the bike because the GDI mammoth tank is far more powerful than the nod stealth tank, the (stealth) doesn't even work. If it makes GDI feel better they can have a chrono harvester or something. Another thing that I hope would be changed is the team change thing, I guess it is just the demo that has the team-change thing and anyone who has the real game could you inform me do you get a bomber or orca fighter???

It would be nice to see it in the game for the sake of completeness. It would probably enhance gameplay as well, because the difficulty of hitting it would be nicely balanced by the fact that it can't take very many tank shells. In terms of assault bike vs APC... The APC is a better decision as far as gameplay is concerned. APCs promote teamplay, assault bikes promote solo combat. Hey, while we're at it, how come the computer NEVER used assault bikes in the original game when you played as GDI?

plus Nod did have an APC in C&C multiplayer. I notice no-one complains about Nod having chem warriors, which were also only available in multiplayer. Or apaches.

I wish both teams would get the SSM Launcher (I think that was the name) It was a multiplayer only vehicle, with a slow ROF. But it wielded two huge Napalm missiles. That was fat they were Honest John Missiles, not napalm, and they are more powerful than the regular missile launchers, so it would be unfair, but then again, Nod does have funner vehicles than GDI (flametank) but renegade would be so much funner with Honest Johns and recon bikes[February 27, 2002: Message edited by: Duo_Maxwell]

Stealth? What kind of man writes Stealth as Stealth? Oh and BTW you are an extreme NEWBIE. Stealth tanks do cloak, but you are able to see them when you are on their side or get up close to them!!!!!!!!!! (In the original MP demo version you could actually see them like the allies did, but that is fixed now in the patches) ,I, ,I,[February 28, 2002: Message edited by: EAVetAlex]

Nod has more vehicles than GDI. But GDI's are more multi-purpose and more expensive.Maybe they should add Mobile HQ, with an internal purchase station so ppl can change class or re-arm in the field.
