They're animations.

Taunts are clientside, afaik. Binding them to keys like what WD did for SSGM (numpad keys) would be server side. Look in gmkeyhook.cpp && gmscripts.cpp (MDB_SSGM_Player script) for help.

Just rename it? Anyway are you talking about the animations or the "Move Out" stuff?

dont replace it, just make a command like !a <animation>, plays an animation on the player...
you'd use 'Commands->Set_Animation' i believe... how to set up all the arguments for that, i have no idea....

is there a .txt / .ini that controls the animation stuff (how units walk and stuff) i found characters.ini but that didnt work when i changed the animation names. it kept original, i think that one is for the missions.

Taunts can not be changed client side. The animation that is played is decided server side.

That would only change what the animation looks like to you, not other players.

w3d files cannot be renamed, unless you want to mess the file up.
