Moved to renegade client subforum. Check the sticky about creating nicknames on top of this subforum.

Problem is,

i type in nickname and password i want and click new account then it comes up with this:

Page failed to load or is invalid

i looked at the sticky about this but i didn't help.

No, you don't click "new account" button, they don't work since WOL was taken over by XWIS.

Just type in your username and password of desire (username can be anywhere between 3 and 9 characters and must start with a letter, password has to be 8 characters, no more no less) and click "Login".

If it succeeds, you will be given the MOTD (Message Of The Day), if not, you will be given a reason.
