The Dam level? Hmmmmm might have missed something back up the road follow your pointer at the top right, and go back and check all buildings to make sure they are clear. If thats not the mission you are referring to, sorry.

You use the elevator to the top floor then go through the door there and you will be on top of the Hand of Nod and a cutscene will start and you will see the scientists going to a cargo plane. Then jump off the hand and go to the back end of the plane. The mission is over.

Commando, make sure you jump out of your tank and walk up to the door with your character.It won't open if you're inside the tank...Could that be the problem?
