Well maybe they do it not to just keep playing there, but to screw them over and to pretend that we got past there shit and there stupid ban list. I however do not that stuff because I am not banned there.

Also Ken1001, please post the whole story here and there. It would be nice that we know what was going on. Because there has been so many people that has complained here and have really been telling a line of bullshit making us think that they are not cheating. COUGH Troopmon2 COUGH

Real story: He wasn't banned, he was votewarned multiple times by players in the server.

Result: 1 hour temp ban.

Conclusion: Absolutely no moderator was involved in this.

NightRegulator tells you the reason you were kicked and the duration of such temp bans if any. If people weren't such n00bs they wouldn't need to ask why they were banned, and they would also know where to complain.

The only people who come here to complain about other servers not affiliated and completely unrelated to this forum are either clueless and/or attention whores, that's the real reason you hear nothing but bullshit about every community.

Will you FUCKING GET OVER IT?

I'm tired of all your bullshit and complaining about our server.

For one, you fucking contemplate yourself by saying that all the mods falsely ban people for cheating, then you ACCUSE the mods of cheating! What the fuck?!

For two, it's Kamuix's server. He can do whatever the fuck he wants in it.

For three, I barely even remember havoc5310, how can you honestly hold a grudge over that for that long?

For four, GET OVER IT. Just because we denied your application, doesn't mean that you should go throughout renegade forums making up BULLSHIT about us!

For five, we usually have logical reasons to ban people. If a moderator were to ban someone for no reason, we'd definately deal with him/her in an appropriate manner.

For six, you need to stop making up fucking bullshit and assuming it's true!

For seven, why the fuck do you try to get in the server if you hate it so much?!

Last of all, and after my 100th time of saying it, GET THE FUCK OVER IT! Can't you fucking read, or are you some kind of idiot?!

respond with a "lol," then you prove yourself a fucking retard.

Perhaps to clear a few things up,

Kamuix is as most know a modified server. Unlike most regular servers one can find that almost everything has been altered from damage points, speed, ...

As a result if new players come to play there (be it the DM or AOW mode) they are either owned right away by the more experienced people of the server. Or they can hold there ground but find it strange how a light can a med (for example). As such most new players play a few games and then they leave ebcuase they don't know the server yet.

An example is the feature of having orca/apache on volcano, and a player accused me of cheating for having an orca (wich he said is not possible on this map) after that he left stating the entire server cheats. This is such an example of these people. Instead of learning something new they turn there back to it and think it's evil.

For the part of moderators:admins abusing there power? Well it is a known fact that arty/helckers sometimes does a !qkick this is becuae he hates people playing "noobish (whatever he calls noobish is everything he also does but anyway). This for instance is an action of an individual and not in name of the server. If a moderator would !qkick, !kick, !ban, !... he/she has a good reason for 99% of the time.

And that the mods there cheat? I would say no. They just have the exp and know how to (in most of the times -_-0) turn the map to there advantage.

And I'll stop typing now cause I could go on and on and on about this.

Greets

I'm not saying that I am not a n00b, but I am at times. I qkicked shkkf for being an annoyance and wanted to shut him up(yes was mod on mod, but I got carried in game as usual, hate when that happens).

I find it strange when "madracks" or "madrocks" which ever he prefers says that I, "arty80" qkicked him for something n00bish. I haven't played that name in well OVER a year or two. I remember that name a little(madracks or rocks)which usually got in trouble for going against standard rules like b2b, glitching, etc. That was a long time ago. :(funny how people can talk crap about others while they don't even know about it) I remember going on this forum a very, very long time ago(before today) and got lost in some stuff o.O

I get accused for cheating from time to time and get used to it and then I just agree on it. The only place where I !qkick the most is in " Kamuix DM " for stuff like spawnkilling, glitching. I try to not get carried into game, and works from time to time.

I can't say that mods don't cheat, but some do which is like If I ever find this "madracks" or "madrocks" I want to join him and pwn his sorry @$5, and make him scream "CHEATER!!!!"
