I could not find any way to get any of the security cards, and had gone all around the first 2 levels of the ship. There were some yellow doors (which i didnt have keys for) that i put c4 on to draw people out of. When they came from the other side, I ran in. I repeatedly did this until i got to the bridge, and somewhere later in the mission i got the yellow card. Did anyone else get around not having that card by doing this?

I went through the yellow door with out the key before the patch and the level will not end so I redo the whole level again.

its in the bridge, you need the red card for that, you need to go through the cargo hold to get to the bridge
