Does anyone have that ancient CNC Ammo skin pack that made the ground on every map the sand texture? The ground in the field tunnels was sand, volcano was completely sand, etc. Looked really awesome! CNC Ammo has been gone for a few years and I can't find it on any other websites...

Guess it's a long shot that someone will have it -- the skin pack was made in 2002 and CNC Ammo was the only website that had it and it closed three or four years ago...

That'll be hard to find.. According to EA-Damageeveryting's signature, he has a lot of skins and old ren files, he's your best bet.

Do you mean something like this?

It's not the same one you're talking about, but a sand (desert) skin pack I made a year back. I was unaware it's been done before. It's probably not the same though.

Chuck, that's similar to what I am talking about. Good job on those textures!

Here are some screens of what I was talking about -- very simple -- all the ground textures for every single map was turned into a very low quality sand color, but I loved it!

If people can find places to download any AMMO packs or these terrain packs, please message me.

By the way Chuck, the download link for that skin seems to be no longer there. o.O

No, you can see the pictures unregistered. Otherwise, I would have logged in at BC ^^.

I am sorry, I haven't looked on my HDD yet, but can't remember having any stuff from CnC Ammo since I started collecting files as of spring 2004.

I have some old things from the olden days hosted on Trilite (anyone remember the site?) like the Kapoks 6th sense reticle etc but I have to search my USB-HDD for a desert pack.

If I haven't one that fits your needs, I can make one tomorrow. Chuck Norris' pack is made of original Westwood textures as it seems, so it shouldn't be that hard.

I suggest you to have a look on the Jelly site, because GrimmNL, DieHardNL, SMLfires and some others are very active there. On Renforums, there is Scrin, but I really doubt that he makes skins for other people. Although he is good at it.

I'll check back this evening to keep you up to date.
