This is for those, who like to kill them self (And others too.)All you need is:A tank (buggy or hum-vee are not to expensive)A driver (You   )Remote C4sXtra:Prox. C4sTimed C4sPut the C4s on the car and drive into the another base (If possible) or another target.Lets say, that the tank is in the another base, drive to a target, just jump out of the tank and push the remote button. It should explode and damage quite a lot.Unfortunely, if the tank are destroyed before you get out, you will get killed by the explotion, even if friendly fire is on.This is just a thing you could do if you are bored

I can not wait for this patch to come out, I was really dissapointed, when they said the aircraft would not be usable/playable.I think they predict the patch should be out within the next month.   I want my Ocra fighter and Attack helichopter!!!---Favorable outcome?"They all die" – Cabal

You may uninstall/delete that version. In the near future (hopefully next week some time) we will be sending you a download link to a private FTP server, where you will download a new version of the beta -- this version will be approximately 100 MB in size, and will include the flying vehicles maps (there are two, variations of City and Walls).

In the console.Hit the ~ key.In MP, you can use the console to get your fps, hit the console and type "fps".You can also get "extras", but then you need a key combination that works...

I've tried 1 or two of those extras. "fnkqrrm" did nothingand "quanifigon" said not in laddered games-I haven't tried it in a non laddered yetdoes anyone have any more of these codes?also, it is said that at a purchasing terminal pressing tab lets you change your skin but I can't get this to work for the patched game, in a non-laddered game, press "~" and type "extras fnkqrrm", this will turn on extra models for characters and vehicles. when in the buying terminal, hold alt and press eighter of the thingies. HEY LOOK AT THAT, I CAN PLAY AS LOCKE!

usally you have to make a second shortcut to the game then add the console-cheatcc to the end of the target line.
