A couple of skins for the sniper rifles.

They are not to flashy so I did not figure anyone would call them "advantage" skins.

Hope you enjoy.

sorry i don't really like them the skin is very low detail and u've replaced all hte skin with that camo texture but you had to do some photoshop to make it better otherwise it's nice for a begginer good luck in furture

The skin is nice but as with all character skins with camo, they really hinder you while in game. It works and looks nice but then, it will be harder to see. This camo ramjet would be much harder to see when the enemy is hiding behind a wall looking into the tunnel.

But great job on the skin though and I have downloaded them.

Ok the blue scope on the camo ramjet was not fitting to me so I made a minor change and made it look green like the 500 sniper.

How could a Briton like cpjok fail so epically in the basis of English...Not to mention WHOREQUEER's English is better.

ChewNL, nice job, although it needs a bit more polish, you are doing great.

Yea I plan to post them soon. I was thinking of making a package with a few different wall patterns and a few different floor patterns so people could mix and match.

Well always glad to have a new skinner here and I love adding new fresh skins to Game-Maps.NET, pretty much everyone in the community here knows the site, so your skins should get known and used.

I have a question about this skin:

Will the camo pattern show when you are in 3rd person and using another weapon? Will it work when the Ramjet is slung over the back?

There are 2 different files for all the weapons including beacons and C4s. 1 starts with "f" which I believe is the first person view, and the other will start with a "w" and would be for the; on your back, random spawn/ kill pickup, C4s on the ground or walls, or anyone else holding the weapon.

Close, the "w" stands for world and is used everywhere except in first person.

I always wondered what that stood for, ty.

Lol I am learning a lot in these forums.

I am not all that good with computers, I just love Renegade and the fact that I can change things like colors is freaking awesome (at least to me a simple computer illiterate person).

I would like to do some more complicated stuff like models or whatever, but I'll keep it simple for now.
