Ive seen ppl do this and want to know whether it can be done with just 1 player or do they require a buddies help on GDI, it is possible to hop down the cliff overlooking the nod base, how exactly to do?

Not quite sure what you mean, but if you mean the cliffs that overlook the nod refinery then yes you need to players. It is just like doing a wall hop.

yeh behind the nod ref i tried buddy jumping on top of a friend, we were in the bunker, he was crouching in front of the ledge and i was trying to get out the window however, i couldn/t get out, is there a trick to doin this?

you can't hop out of window, you have to hop further down where you exit the covering and walk towards the bit with the hole.

Just go in a corner and hop and you can get onto the outa map bit.

Then you walk over beam and hop down to ref.

Nice stealthy trick in larger games when the tunnels are mined.

Hop at the blue oval then walk around and over the beam shown by red arrows.

having a bit of trouble understanding.

i can do this by myself?

i walk to the corner of the walkway, before going out onto the long brick ramp leading to the bunker i then jump into the wall (on the base/left side of walkway, yes?, which will take me to the outer part.?)
