So a new law has been passed in Texas USA that says, if you do computer repairs and you don't have a PI license, you are breaking the law and you be sent to jail.

Also even taking your PC in for repair will get you into trouble as well.

Just incase punishing the IT guys for making "unqualified" repairs isn't enough, they threw in punishing the consumers who WANT their computers to be repaired by an "unqualified" person.

EPIC FACEPALM @ Texas gov't.

Although this is off topic (sorry guys) it pisses me off when someone accuses me of hacking.
I don't care if you say it to my face but if you are going to come here and say it you better have more proof then "omg he has way more kills then me". I mean its REALLY easy to kill a regular soldier with a havoc especially since witte reduced the health of all basic characters back down to the normal amount. I mean a shot with a ramjet to the leg will kill you! I'm used to having to kill people with above average health and armor, you running around with a basic unit is well very simple to kill. Also since you were saying that "Noman was cheating too" I'm assuming that you were hacking. Also I never said "who cares" anytime that you said that I was hacking I never even responded to you. I said that you did not even have to try to kill us (where we had the huge advantage) or "[22:37] <@WGCHTPM> ~noman: i dont have to hack to kill u", Never anything that even remotely sounded like I was hacking.

Also back on topic: the webpage states that "If a computer repair technician without a government-issued private investigator's license takes any actions that the government deems to be an "investigation," he may be subject to criminal penalties of up to one year in jail and a $4,000 fine, as well as civil penalties of up to $10,000. The definition of "investigation" is very broad and encompasses many common computer repair tasks."

Not that NOT ALL computer repairs are now Illegal but only a undefined amount because of the poor word choice. I live In Texas and have not even heard of this, but I bet that this law will probably be overturned by the courts from this very vague term of "investigation".

All the other times I only shot when you were getting out of your spawn area and about to escape or WTF, you were spawn killing every one. You SHOULD OF NOT KILL THROUGH THAT WINDOW, even if it is a bug, you should not do it.

I hope you wont do it ever again, or, if you do, i hope you will get your ass kicked out of that server

Edit: Muad Dib15, why dont you shut the hell up, every one hates you. You act like a little girl.

In case you're wondering why everyone is laughing at you, you spelled dumb wrong. Way to go, that was probably the most hilarious irony I've seen on these forums.

In what context does the word "dump" even fit into that insult/sentence?

It's not like HORQWER's the only one shitting up the forums- it's also partially people that do stuff like you're doing right now, defending the guy who's made a complete idiot of himself since day one. This dude's been caught cheating multiple times, yet nobody gives a shit or does anything. If anything, all that post did is give him confidence to come back and shit up the forums some more.

/(INSERT ANOTHER THING HERE ONE TO TWO WORDS HERE) REFERS TO wOw!
And it's retarded to have fixing computers in Texas as a federal law, you could be reinstalling windows cause the marble buggy.exe skin on game-maps.net removes it and cops burst through the door and arrest you.
