I think it be cool if you had what most games have.... when u Suicide instead of just disappearing you just like blow up or play some animation then your body lies a little bit longer before goign away...maybe soem blood like in bf2 you suicide you like make a sound and it does this bad ass animation

If you layed on the ground for longer it would change clanwars quite a bit, in clanwars you usually sui at the start if you get a bad spawn, this would make the suicide no longer worth it.

However could be nice as a server configurable option.

you will still die but you ee a body lay there for a few seconds maybe with some blood..to show they dead and like play a animation like in bf2 where it looks like someone just blasted a shotgun in ur face hahaa

Also, they should make it so it would be possible for hosts to disable the Suicide button. That would be cool.
