You need to learn how to do searches. I mean, Google even crawls my hole of a blog. It shouldn't be that hard to find what you're looking for.

Do yourself a favor and Google "how to use a search engine".

http://shop.acresso.com/product/fullproducts.asp#q

You'll want the InstallAnywhere 2008. It is very powerful and will allow your apps to be installed on all platforms. We just upgraded from the last version and this version is great. Has a lot of power and flexibility.

For an open-source solution:
www.sourceforge.net/projects/nsis

It's quite nice too...(BI used it for the BIATCH installer).

Just get 7zip and then edit the self-extracting executable with resource hacker.
