I'd like to say I play games, but I don't. I don't really find them fun anymore for some reason.

TF2, Renegade, Garrysmod, Starsiege: Tribes, Starsiege... and a few little indie-games like DEFCON and Uplink to kill time. I'd be playing System Shock 2 if I weren't still trying to get it working.

I just beat Crisis again because that game is seriously fucking awesome.

I play Renegade all the time, and now Battlefield 2 and various mods of that game. I'm also playing this pretty badass C&C 3 mod called Tiberian Essence. Basically: Mammoth Mark II. Google it.

Also, Star Wars Battlefront II, Red Alert 3, Shadowbane, Yuri's Revenge and Mabinogi ( )

I dunno, it's got about half the activity level I'd say that Renegade has. The fanbase is pretty large though, it's got a similar cult following to Renegade in that aspect. I play more single player map mods and shit.

I would be playing Crysis (After the part were you get out the core) but due to Crytek sucking massive donkey balls at optimizing, I get 2FPS when shooting at aliens.

Guild Wars, all three campaigns, Street Fighter 2 (PS2 version), SS2, Tiberian Sun if it wouldn't crash every fucking 5 minutes on me. argh
