Yes, hackers suck.I hate having to have protection running in the background while playing games. It's just sad. The last time I didn't bother doing it was ages ago while playing INFANTRYZONE extreme. I wiped out 4 guys on on one team with a single plasma bolt cos they were too close together. One of them Pm'd me and said he was getting his mate to hack me for cheating.2 mins later my computer locks up, then blue screens.Never again will I leave my computer unprotected. Some people are just weird.By the way asshole, if you're out there. I WASN'T cheating, Im just good.

WELL, since there are no cheats for Renegade. If somebody tried to do that to while I`m playing Ren, I`m going to go to their house and ripe their legs out of their bodies, then I`m going to rip out 4 of their fingers on each hand to make sure they don`t play anymore!Peace reminds me of a time a freind and i were on yahoo chats. some guy got on there and started screwing with him. at the same time his firewall program started telling him someone was trying to hack him. he then typed on the board hackers suck and the guy that was screwing with him said no they don't. he then told the guy to stop hacking him b/c he has the hackers isp. the hacker said no you don't then my freind put the isp on the chat board. the hacker left very shotly after that.

Ok, just to clear this up, there is a difference between hacker and little n00bs who download programs and "hack." BIG difference.

For the record, hackers don't suck. There are just little weird @&!\%^##\%!@$@$!@ (calm down) that pretend to be, or try to be. Don't talk about things you know nothing about. The hacker left shortly after that, well if he's a hacker I'm the pope.
