If anyone is itching to get the ramjet rifle in single player read on. On the Tomorrow's Technology Today mission you should see a black hand sniper on the roof of the comm centre, shoot him with ure mammoth if u kept it alive or yourself and go round to the back of the comm centre till u find a lift going up to the roof. Go round the roof edge VERY slowly until u get to the antenna of the comm centre. Now wait till the dish is on the opposite side of where ure standing and jump over the antenna aerial. Now you should be able to see the ramjet. For this next bit there is a way to increase the height of your jump. Plant some C4 on the edge of the roof and back up a bit as you jump detonate the C4 and u should be able to make it, the C4 takes about 50 health off so be sure ure fit. If you did it right then grab the ramjet and drop off the roof and voila u have the ramjet rifle, even though uve only got 4 rounds have fun with it!! Happy Ramjet Sniping

Heh, it took me 2 tries but I remember getting it. I ended up using it for the two stealth tanks guarding the Temple of NOD.

First of all, I was playing in a game today and all of a sudden I see a guy on nod with a tiberium auto rifle. Then I begin to shoot him, but he runs into the tiberium field and replenishes his health. I was seriously ****ed off. Later, I was on nod and I looked for the same character and didn't see it. Now was this guy cheating, and if he was I didn't think it was possible so how did he do it?

I did the same thing only it was a blackhand stealth.. he was running into our barracks and I was 3 steps behind him. firing....red dot in the back of his skull 100 rounds.... NO HEALTH LOST.... He walked over the mines and killed 2 ppl including myself..and he did not die... wtf..this is BS....

The game must be unladdered! Oh, and it works in multi practice too. When you start the game, or at any point in it, you push ~ or F8, and type in "extras fnkqrrm" (without the quotations)! Then once you've entered a PT terminal, hold down your left ALT button, and click on either the character button or the vehicles button (while holding down the ALT). And voila! You should have the extra skins at your disposal! Peace

Is there a disadvantage to those mutant skins? When I'm in a non ladder game I'll probably do that and just camp around near a tiberium field! Are they weak? rubbish weapons? What are the disadvantages?

This mystery fella is an Acolyte, there a mutant, have a tiberium rifle and like all mutants heal in tiberium. I have encountered this Nod infantry type on field as well. Easily solved with a sniper shot to the head mutants are great... cause the ones with tib weapons can heal themselves anywhere!... all you have to do is shoot at your feet... and they replinish health!... and they have good weapons... but no armor ...

I like to use Kane in extras. He is exactly the same as Raveshaw but He is Kane. Same health armour and weapon but looks different and cost 100 more than Raveshaw.
