I accidently put in the wrong password for the account and had the game save it and auto log in.
How do I undo that?

Why's that?

At the screen where u normally click on "advanced game listings", move your mouse to the left and a sidebar will pop up. Go to "my information" and untick the "automatically log in" box.

you may also have to hit delete account when you try to log in, it won't delete ur account, just delete the saved password with the nickname, otherwise you may not be able to edit the password that you have already written.
