note that chem troopers are good to rush in 'packs' because they don't take so much damage from a c4 or from getting splashed
it makes them rather hard to kill when there are 10 of them in 1 building

I find chem rushes (and flames) to be more annoying than anything. With that whole spray go through the wall crap. Also the huge dip in FPS.

Ye, i see what you mean but then again i don't mind causing havoc with a flamer myself, hiding around a corner waiting for a med or something to appear infront of the flame

In smaller games, you can do massive damage with a chem rush. But it's usually faster to all take techies then, except on maps like Volcano where you can get unnoticed over the tib field.

I would remote you and you would die, think about that next time you decide to jump a med.
