If you have the red card, you already killed the captain. When the prisoners are in the sub room, you have to poke them and move them until they're all close to each other near the submarine. Eventually, after you do that and kill enough of the respawning enemies, the mission will end.

I updated my topic with a new screenshot. Please take a look at it. If you look carefully, you will see that all the 3 prisoners are together.

Odd... You have the red card, and the mission pog in the top right for the captain is missing, which means it should have been completed, yet the text message still says you need to kill him for the card. I don't remember sequence breaking ever being a problem in this level, and I'm not sure if it would even be a problem. What I do see in both screenshots is that the prisoners appear to be stuck in place. When that happened to me, I had to try to push them around a bit, or hit E on them and hope they did something. If they won't move at all anymore, you won't be able to finish the mission, so you'll need to load an earlier save.

Too bad when i made the screenshots it was the 3rd time playing that mission. When I first played the mission, I had the same problem. I restarted, killed all Nod, rescued prisoners and i did all the secondary and primary objectives, but i got stuck in the same place. The 3rd time i realized that it is a problem with that mission. But I still think that i shouldn't kill the captain before the mission requests it. Maybe this is it?

By the way are you Robert Hill? If yes, your trainer is great! (I only downloaded the trainer because i thought it would help me finishing the mission but otherwise i don't use cheats)

If you're using Scripts 3.4.4(or any other newer version of scripts for that matter) get rid of them and go back to the default Scripts, to do this all you have to do is rename Scritps2.dll to Scripts.dll

EDIT: By the way: Wrong Section, should be in the Renegade Client Section.

I don't use Scripts 3.4.4 or any newer.I went to my Renegade directory and searched for scripts.dll.I found it written simply scripts.dll

At least...I managed to finish the mission!Thanks guys!And i found the mistake.I used a Nod Officer to pass through the security door without the card and killed the captain before the game requests it.Thanks again!
