Niiiiiiiice, Renegade crashes by itself for random reasons like it usually does, and you blame scripts 3.4.4. AWESOME!

37 crashdumps (plus multiple other crashes that the windows error service caught instead of the crashdumper) since my last Ren install, with only scripts 3.4.4's 4camp.net .exe file and djlaptop's standalone no-cd patch installed, suggest it's either scripts 3.4.4's fault or Fraps' fault. The only times I had more random crashes was during the eras of scripts 2.7.x, 2.9.0 (2.9.2 was usually fine), and 3.1.x.

Edit: for good measure, sysinfo.

I know 3.1.4 was also a very stable release, maybe you could try this one?

However, with your record of constantly trying to mod Renegade and the nature of the crash you posted, I'm rather inclined to say that the crash was caused by one of your attempted mods.

oh yeah...

i just remebered, when i played apb (newest version)

it would crash randomly just like my renegade

it too has scripts 344

The crash which you posted is related to being unable to process certain files and doesn't involve scripts 3.4.4-specific features. The answer as to why that's happening is usually "You modded files and broke something." or "Your hardware is failing." Because you've posted about crashes in which you failed to mention that you modified files before, it's obviously the first reason. As for crashes with APB, the likely issue is that they shipped something called "apbshaders.dll" which contains unfinished and usually unstable code.

Simply said, by looking at it or touching it the wrong way. There are too many ways to break Renegade so I'm not going to even start listing them.
