Nope! No cheat codes. The fnkqrm thing is a cruel joke! Even if there were, what would that say about your skills if you used them?

omg, you god * n00b. hit F8 in NON-LADDERED and MP practice, and type "extras fnkqrm". It works, and isn't even cheating because all the units have no/less avantage than normal units! Get your info STRAIT before you stand on your soapbox.

I wouldn't call that a cheat more like a waist of money.....Usually the Extras are not too useful unless u use a mutant in a Tiberium Field

Nod units are better. But the sedan is good for snipers that want to go somewhere quickly, then hide the vehicle (or destroy it).The Chameleon as stated before is excellent for squishing infantry. It's also better armored then the nod apc and harder to hit since it's low to the ground. A good replacement.The mutants are also good. Since they can heal in the tiberium, and the one mutant is the faster infantry in the game. (the one with the auto rifle)the code to unlock this isn't a cheat though. So don't say it is.

I don't know about useless...the tiberium characters are good..the sedan is nice and fast for rushing into the obelisk.
