Hi I have a couple questions.

1) I want to be able to view all the nicks that are in my own purchased serials. I read a post of Goztow's that says to enter in the wrong password to get a list of all the registered nicks; I am doing that but I get no message. Can someone help me?

2) I want to delete some of my nicks from my serials as they are full. I know the XWIS site that I have to go to delete them but my question is, will I get that space back on my serial? If I delete a couple nicks in one of my serials, will it free space to create more nicks?

These are my main questions...thank you for any help!

Yes, it will free up space. Try restarting ren, then enter a wrong password. It only works the first time you login to xwis.

That's great it will free up space.

As for viewing registered nicks, it's not working. I tried everything step by step. I know that it will show all the nicks if I am trying to create a 10th nick...but I don't want to do that

Thank you for help.

Try this:
Open regedit

goto: HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE > SOFTWARE > WESTWOOD > RENEGADE > WOLSettings > Logins
You should find all of the nicks there(it works for me at least).

Or just go into chat and type /nicks, it'll show you all the registered nicks for that ip (I think)

Also to delete a username: http://xwis.net/rg/xwi/?a=delete\_nick

Just make sure that he don't end up getting your serial banned somewhere.
