Neither Deathlink nor cAmpa designed the HUD to do that. The person who did that said that they were doing it to learn and practice different ways to write and implement code. They also said it would never be released to the public.

So stop your bias and thoughtless comments. Anyone with half a brain can see that you aren't really that diehard about hating the stuff that is released and are just looking to get on the nerves of people who appreciate his/there work. It's quite obvious you are only looking to start problems.

And don't give me "It's my opinion!" crap. This sort of opinion is the one better left either to yourself or a single comment of disagreement. Not 50 posts offensively saying the same thing and a separate thread to go with it. That basically just screams "I want attention!"

Actually if they just did it to learn more coding, they wouldn't put it on youtube in action. The very fact people know it can be done makes it much more likely that someone will create and release it or worse: make a plain cheat of it. Imagine radar hack combined with what's shown here. IMO VERY likely to happen.

I can agree that he wants to learn coding but it seems to me he also wants bragging right...

Been there done that.

Your missing a huge detail here... I'm not using any cheats (wallhack, radarhack or whatever the fuck else you can pull out of your ass) what so ever when I play.

Me having a full radar to see my teammates is no different then someone using spongebob to see there c4 easier. Gimme a break, your an idiot.

Cheating admin? LOL. He's been SHOWING tons of people this stuff, myself included. If he wanted to cheat, he wouldn't be showing it off in the first place; he'd keep it to himself, and fuck around with people.

This full radar thing is nothing but a brain-fart inducing distraction. Lol, seriously, if someone can use that full radar (the one shown in the video) in an online game, use it at a glance, and make good use of it, I will personally buy an airline ticket, go to their house, and pat them on the back.

When I was watching that video, I couldn't make heads or tails of what direction he was facing, where those little dots related to other people on the map, where most of the little dots where (because of all the jumbled moving text), and whose little dot was whose. Not to mention the fact that it completely blocked your field of vision.

I don't know about anyone else out there, but I couldn't read that thing and play Renegade at the same time even if I spent a month practicing...

It's irrelevant.

If i read correctly, the original problem with it isn't what was hard coded into it, but it shows what can be done, which means someone could now know, or even could be in the middle of creating one that shows where the enemy players are, whether they're in a vehicle etc....and it will keep expanding.

I don't think anyone sees the version shown on youtube as a cheat.

Just drop the issue. We all (I should hope all) have seen this argument and similar about cheats. First it's building health bars, now it's full-screen radar. What next are we going to argue about? Who cares if he makes it? As he stated, he just did it to learn how. He has NO INTENTION of releasing this nor the source to the public.

its HARDCODED to only display info IF the object is on the same team.

It's irrelevant.

If i read correctly, the original problem with it isn't what was hard coded into it, but it shows what can be done, which means someone could now know, or even could be in the middle of creating one that shows where the enemy players are, whether they're in a vehicle etc....and it will keep expanding.

I don't think anyone sees the version shown on youtube as a cheat.

oh yes. because there have been MANY MANY versions of are-gee-h and the like after that was released. Gimme a break. The people who know how to do this would have already done it OR are too lazy and don't give a shit about it. The people who think "OH THATS COOL IM GONNA TRY THAT " without knowing wtf they are doing wont be making it anyways are-gee-h ... aye aye captain! harr....harr.....

No offense to you or anyone else saying something similar, but I found this post funny. What you are basically saying is this:

"Even though this particular thing in question isn't being used as a cheat nor can it be used as a cheat, that doesn't stop other people from making their own completely different cheats."

You say it as if cheats didn't ever really exist in Renegade and this particular HUD/radar thingy gives people the ideas and incentive to make their own completely unrelated cheats from scratch.

Yes, we know, cheats are bad.

I'm more what people call "a graphics artist" - I don't have fun at "coding".

Having your sober opinion and judgment agree with your drunk opinion and judgment doesn't exactly help your case.

Also, YOU started the drama.

BlueThen was just joking, he admires the work you have put into it.

Same with andrew, he just never would have guessed his vids would get uploaded. In a way, he's proud.

Flag isn't for just censoring. It's for reporting stuff such as stolen content.
