I am assuming this is something he did (not that he didn't get the idea from blacky's).

Blacky's only changed island's textures, because he edited file names or something, afaik.

well i had nothing to do this morning so made this skin.

I didnt look back in the past if someone did this before.

but this1 is mine !

do with it what you want

I can remember seeing your tunnels skins for islands about 5 months ago on your TMX forum.
My guess is you converted the whole maps to make the tunnels blend in.

Just use my islands and use your skins I already renamed every thing. Only one i couldn't change was the ref tib door. The Readme shows you the textures I renamed and the textures you didn't change just take the original file and rename it according to the readme.

It might just be easier to just make a new one because I renamed everything and you only have some of the skins for islands. Download a hex editor and hex edit mp_islands_sun.w3d and change the texture names of the skins you changed.

I use Hex workshop <http://www.hexworkshop.com/>

You can also just remake the whole map by just importing and setting it back up and change the texture names, but the other way is easier but this way is better.
