
Subject: Looking For A Program
Posted by _SSnipe_ on Sun, 29 Mar 2009 09:26:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Does anyone know a program like IRecovery thats free
<http://www.diydatarecovery.nl/irecover.htm>

Srry if I dont explain this right,
one that can recover data off my external harddrive

right now it says that its blank or does not have a system file (like ntfs) but yet data still on there on irecovery it can detect my external harddrive via usb but even with no volume (or anything in computer managemnet says its blank) (it still can detect the files like irecovry can)andn recover but, I cant do shit without buying it and its way to expensive

I would use google but not sure how to search for this....every time i search for recovery software but all i find are ones you can search off a current "visible" partition

So something that can scan my external hard drive that has no volume or raid or what ever it is and recover data

Subject: Re: Looking For A Program
Posted by EvilWhiteDragon on Sun, 29 Mar 2009 10:20:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

<http://www.recuva.com/>

Google better next time. Somehow I always manage to find the answer to your question with google in just a moment.

Subject: Re: Looking For A Program
Posted by _SSnipe_ on Sun, 29 Mar 2009 17:26:23 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

[quote title=EvilWhiteDragon wrote on Sun, 29 March 2009 03:20]<http://www.recuva.com/>
nevermind does not work for what I need. cant detect hard drive that does not have a volume
