Hello, if i delete an account older than 30 days, would that cancel out my limit of 9 accounts to 8 so i can make a new one?

another thing i need help on, are sharing serials aloud in renegade? for example, i install renegade on my laptop and on my computer with same serials, because i was banned on some servers for shared serials etc...

Thanks in advance,

-Will-

A ban for shared serials is probably issued because that serial is known to be distributed on the internet, rather than legally.

Deleting an account like that will free up a space in your limit of 9.

You can install Renegade on several PCs with the same serial, provided you are sure that only one of those will be used at a time, those machines should also all be yours.

I havn't got my serial from the internet, i live in the UK and i bought my C&C renegade from a shop called 'Game Station'. Inside the disc, theres a white sticky with a long code. Thats where i got it from, not from the net in anyway and the serial i've installed on my other computers/laptops are mine, so ye, i dont understand why i am banned. I havnt hacked or anything, all i remember is, i was in a map called 'M01'3, then was kicked for shared serial, that was my reason anyway and i thought it was aloud.

Thanks, -Will-

Heh, you need to take that up with the server owners.

Ok, will do, another problem, i've deleted one of my existing accounts and am trying to create a new one. I know my password how to be 8 characters long but everytime i put in an ID and 8 character long password, it says connecting then 'Login Failed' 'Unable to connect to server. Firewall negotiation complete'. Why is this? please help

Nicknames must be less than 10 characters, passwords must be exactly 8.

Do not use spaces and other punctuation.

See if that works.
