Go to this page first. Now, Sk8rImUK has a flash signature which seems to mess up my computer. His post is in the middle of the page. Go to where his sig is, holding the vertical scrollbar (or mousewheel) and steadily scroll the flash animation back and forth to the bottom and top of the screen. Does your FPS go to like 1 per second like mine?

If this problem is not just mine, I think flash sigs mess up scrolling on php forums and make them seem slow on client computers. If so, I think they should be banned, because they sure as hell are annoying when I come in contact with one around here.

It's not flash in his sig, it's just a gif.

No it's not flash it's a gif I made with Jasc Paint Shop Pro...

I can turn the quality right down or take it off if it's that much of a problem .
