instead of using a brush to trace the lines try using the line tool so the lines are straight. because the gdi ones keyboard isnt very straight

Or just use a hue color change
Or selective color change.
Or a combination of the two

The hue color change usally seems to change the whole image better luck with the line tracer or the color selection tool.

use the magic wand (or any other) tool to select the blue lines then do some hue saturation. OR change the hue of all the picture then use the history brush tool.

Hue -- choose color you wish to change from drop down - change color and done.

Works on the nod uniforms definitely. Takes minutes to do a whole base, character and vehicle re-color.

anyway, that's off-topic
