Give it a week or two and it might start to feel that way again.

Aww come on now. Give it a couple of days, even hours might suffice, and you'll prolly not even notice the difference

I've noticed several subtle changes since the boards opened... like bigger fonts on the main index... and that left margin line gone from the posts... I'm sure there's much more in store for us.

Thanks Crimson.

I'm certainly impressed. The transfer was almost seamless, and I personally think that the Renegade forums will be much better off in the very capable hands of Crimson. I'm sure she'll look after the board's well being more so than any of the mods at the once official forums did, plus she'll be more willing to accomodate for suggestions and user priviledges like signatures and avatars.

I am sure she will, i think that only one other thing is needed to keep renegade alive for a long time and that is some TC's, total conversions, mods and decent maps and because i am sure no more are going to be coming from the official source we will have to help ourselves.

So map makers lets start making stuff !!!!
