You should take screen shots when you're done making a skin, that way you don't have to do it all at once.

You really shouldn't advertise with "get the full game here". If you don't give out a serial, it simply won't work. And if you give out serials, it's illegal. Please loose the advert.

People to make screenshots for you o.O
Dont you want to see how they look yourself? You made them you might aswell use them before you release them no wonder they were crap when you released them on this forum
