Buy an engineer then attach sum c4 to the harvester and detonate it in their base wreaking all sorts of havoc.

U gotta time it first, or wait for someone to get near the harvi. Besides c4 on outside of builds do only a little damage

If you stand in front of it then you can get the c4 right on the front bumper. If you let it drive over you then you can put it underneath where no-one can repair it.

A good idea, but another thing that is important, as said before, is to set the c4 off when people are near it. A good trick (map allowing) is to have someone get a sniper and spot for you to tell you when is a good time to set it off.

Heh, I was about to die in Under once, so I just placed C4 on the harv to try to rack up a few points. Lo and behold, BOINK!
