Iv'e figured out the best way to lay a beacon and have it never found. Here it is, take a heli over a building and land. Then get out and lay the beavon on the building! It's the perfect strategy for a definite kill.

Once ww releases Air Patch, that wont work any more. Have you seen the videos they released? In the patch there will be ladders leading up to the roofs of all the buildings that you can land on. Plus everyone will have helicopters then, anyway.
