I'm working with my friend on a gallery-system for renegade-screenshots.
All user can post thier funnyst, strangest or whatever screenshot in this gallery and others can look at it, rate and discuss about it.

What do you think about this idea?:

Would you like to take part in this gallery?:

PS:

Remember, it's not a graphic host, it's more like a screen-shot comunity.

If you really want to spend the time on it, go for it. But Scythar is right, we already have n00bstories.

With n00bstories its made into loads of diffrent sections (account sections) i think freaker mean all in one section, i like the idea it would be funny

Well, n00bstories rules, but i think it's a lot diffrent.

They're a graphic-hoster, not a graphic gallery, - forum, - ranking system or whatever. simply a place where you can upload your images - but a good one.

I thought of a page with a gallerysystem with categories like, for example, lag caused bugs, extream silly left tanks, funny situations etc.

N00bstoires is a great host, but i think, it's good to have a overview about all the screens, not 'just' scattered around in many different categories.

My opinion is, that it's almost impossible, if you have no link, to find e.g. some pictures of a special topic, maybe nice headshots or else.

In this way, I keep my work up

If it gives the credit to the poster, im fine with it, but i'm still mostly sticking with n00bstories.

Have you got any ideas about this, to put into the gallery?
My work on it is almost finished gg

I'll put a link here soon.
Any Beta-Test-Interested here?

It is very very good and seems you have loads of images so far but I hope you can handle what is gonna come because if it becomes very popular bandwidth and sitespace may come in short supply.
