There's a game that all of us APBers have been playing lately. It's a worms clone that's pretty fun. Hedgewars. You can find it here: <http://www.hedgewars.org/>

We should try to get a giant Renegade Forums game going or something.

Anyhow check it out, it's fun.

Easiest place to pickup a game is in #apathbeyond on n00bstories IRC. Just periodically yell HEDGEWARS! in the chat. I'm usually up for it if a few people are playing.

Also beware the ballgun...

The ballgun is my arch-nemesis.

Welcome to the world of Open-source gaming! BTW there is another similar project named

Wormux, but it is not nearly as mature.

(Now all we need is for EA released Renegade's source code)

Without even clicking the link, my first thought was "Hedgewars? Is that like roofgnomes?!"
