It's Renegade everyone has a way to get stuff. Besides that you have posted those graphics a million times. So its easy to create it yourself.

Also that Light tank from Scrin has been released agaes ago.

Here's my addition:

Building bars = you suck at renegade.

Enough said.

that makes no sense.....say your in mid fight and you want to see whether or not you need to fall back to protect a building. You would normally have to hit K to look @ the health, during which time you cant fire, or move.....having the building bars removes that disadvantage.

Dear god! that's the point. Thus building bars giving you an advantage over other players.

That's +1 topic thats been derailed onto hud/building bar discussion

lol you need to get laid if your so uptight you would ban for building bars on a HUD unfair advantage? no not really.....can i repair my clicking the building bars? no. Can i teleport to the buildings with buildings bars on? no. All it shows is the hp of the buildings so stfu about unfair advantage. It doesn't add damage, or auto aim, or ghost hacks, or any of that bs. I would agree about the unfair advantage if it did ANY of those things other than display hp.....the bars are no diff. then showing your own health.

kill wrote on Tue, 04 August 2009 23:28[DW]Gilligab wrote on Tue, 04 August 2009 22:17]that makes no sense.....say your in mid fight and you want to see whether or not you need to fall back to protect a building. yes i would say it is an advantage, but not an unfair one. Think about it, its no different then looking, seeing YOU are at low hp, and falling back for repairs.

Go beg people to give them to you, and don't start it again there are loads of topic made by people like you who try to prove their point and fail. Not everyone has it, it displays extra information (without pressing K) making sneak buildings attacks get instantly exposed. Therefore it's an advantage. so shut up rofl, when I saw jnz's post I was so waiting for that.

LOL @ saying that Goztow need to get laid. You obviously haven't yourself, considering Goztow's age. There's also a really good reason to ban people for it...

Anyway, you guys are absolutely moronic to bitch about this again. Although I have building bars on my HUD, almost 90% of the time I forget they're there and end up hitting K. And when I do remember I have them, it still takes time to look to the corner of my screen, scan over the much smaller text than the K menu to see which one is which, then figure out the health of all the buildings. I ended up just using K because it's so much easier to read.

But yeah, whatever. I win games because of my building bars. Sorry.
