With 1.037, when you download the latest patch through the auto downloader, it gets stuck at 99%. You then need to press cancel and it still does install (I think).

This is very confusing. Is this a specific 1.037 related problem or a problem with the ren patch system? If so, it would probably be neat to first send in a quick patch to fix the ren auto patcher, before sending in the patch itself?

There's several problems with the patcher indeed, and that's why we're probably pushing a smaller patch to fetch the bigger thing indeed.

Make sure you start Renegade.exe, not Game.exe after patching. Starting Game.exe directly will bypass the update installer. That could explain why it did not work for you.

Because we've always stated that we intend to get it pushed through the patcher.
