I'm not sure why you are submitting atomix's roster when you are playing for Exodus. Only community leaders may sign their community up, which means that I need Xpert to confirm.

I submitted it due to the Atomix Staff forgetting.

Thanks for confirming, shaitan. And to hypnos: Even if a community forgets to submit or does not submit their roster for some other reason, it's not your job to submit their roster nor are you allowed to do it.

Can someone please remove Armanix from the Exodus list, he's already played for Atommix and then signed up for Exodus, due to the penalties that shall be placed - we don't want him playing for us.

Armani originally signed up for both communitites, but has not actualy played in any game, becoz his unreliable

if we keep him in our (Exodus) list, would we still incur penalties if he hasnt actualy played for atomix

i highly doubt he will show up for the match anyway. Arny's list is not accurate or complete and he/we at exodus know that, but we wanted to submit a draft as per the rules. the players will change tho

Players that have signed up and/or played for another community in the previous rounds, are not allowed to play for a new community.

We at Exodus knew about these penalties, and therefor a new roster could possibly be played on the day due to people not showing up etcetera.
