Hey

i have a little problem, madrackz is working on a new hud, with new shaders.dll the hud works for madrackz, but not for me, if i add his shaders.dll to my renegade folder and try to start my game then comes a 5 sek black screen and then it goes back to desktop without any error messages.

Can someone help me?

Ehh crysis, it's REALLY hard to get help with something you're not willing to share.
If you can't share it, you can only get help from madrackz, pretty much.

The HUD proolly contains enough "advantages" to get this moved to heated dicussions... that is if we saw it of course. That is the only logical reason I can think of someone not wanting to share their work.

Nope if I get it correct it's a totaly new hud. Which means all is new. (shaders.dll textures and what not)

In order to help him we would need all the files.

Which Crisis cannot supply since it's not his hud.

So as Altzan said the only one that can help you is Madracks.

Your just missing textures by the look of it.

But in the end:

Well I dont know if it due to the hud but the screenshot doese have a strange size namely 1029 x 827. (This is not even a good aspect ratio)

Which is not a standard resolution. So its edited. Probably because some upload locations dont allow screenshots bigger then a certain size.
