Jelly had about 10 people whereas CW.cc had about 5. Spooky randomly decided to leave before the match started. They couldn't even get enough to 5v5. People started leaving and match didn't happen. CW.cc roster was also never posted while I asked him to just make up a roster with 20 cw.cc people on it.

Both NE and OS haven't posted their rosters either. Did you guys still manage to get this match going?

A shame it didnt happen. I considered this to be THE match to play. Two strong communities and always gg's in the past.

If the team had just played without you, Jelly wanted to do a 5v5, but it didn't happen. CW.cc forfeits this then. We can still meet in the finals after you play in the losers bracket.

Any word on NE and OS?

I thought cw.cc was excited to play Jelly again, considering they only won the whole 5-game series by a 400-point win on City_Flying last time we played. I was certainly looking forward to actually playing in this match, as opposed to filming it like I did the last one.

It's a shame we couldn't play this match. I can only hope cw.cc gets their act together and wins their match in the losers bracket so we get another chance to play them.

their forums have been getting annihilated by angry halo faggots and they had no way of contacting their players spoon also couldn't get his msn working so what was he supposed to do another thing, he didn't ask to be made in charge of the team, it was just made his responsibility after he returned they had 6 total but not all on at the same time, which is at least better than what i've seen in the past

Spoony decided to run CW.cc again and removed the old admins' powers when he announced it on the site, of course they're gonna expect HIM to lead them in any community match.

liquid is correct, and furthermore i didn't even sign up for this at all, let alone say i wanted to be the captain. indeed i said several times that i specifically didn't want to play for clanwars in community matches, if you even call this a community match.

this is not about spoony, this is about playing cw.cc players in the RGCT.
There is now a conclusion cw.cc forfeited because spoony etc.....

I dont get it.

Or spoony is at least the communication person of cw.cc but then he should care about cw.cc
Or we need the real communication person of cw.cc to tell what cw.cc wants. forfeiting or not.

Also for -SoQ- we need that answer. I want a clear person which I can contact to arrange the match between -SoQ- and cw.cc if its true cw.cc forfeited their match vs jelly.
Dont want to hear "I dont care, its not my problem" so you don't care about the prize money from this tournament, either?

why would we want to give real money to someone who has stated twice now he doesn't care about the tournament? i propose, because of its indifference, any prize money won by cw.cc be split in half and given to the other two teams in the top three.

clearly jelly needs to reinforce its monopoly and stranglehold over Renegade, despite organizing and participating in a tournament that includes many other communities. the extra money will be instrumental in helping us keep our hostnames, despite the server list now being ordered by player count.

why are you basing this off of what i just said?

i did not sign clanwars up for this. i was not even around when it started. i never said i wanted to play in this. indeed i said several times that i didn't. why are you even reading what i'm saying? why don't you go talk to whoever the hell signed clanwars up for this in the first place?

although on the subject of prize money, i guess if clanwars won then i'd get back what i donated to jelly last month since i thought it was gonna go under. there's indifference for you, considering the way a big chunk of them treat me for doing nothing wrong.

Prize money goes to the leader(s) that signed the communities up.

shasta (mrmom) was actually online when the match was about to start, but he rather plays pub instead of playing for the community that he signed up.

ren is too dead for shit like this anyway, jelly is the only community that always will have a full team.

give crimson her money back L!OL matter of fact, donate it to me, i'll promise to spend it on quality weed and alky.

I would say it's fair to give CW.cc the forfeit in the jelly match. I can tell you all now that I have no interest in playing ren competitively anymore...just for fun. I recently resigned from CW.cc as the leader(due to RL) and spoony took over shortly after. I have no wishes to be associated with CW.cc anymore and wish the league and spoony the best of luck. I will continue to run the tournament along with TD.

What's strange tho is that spoony is fighting for clanwars.cc reputation yet when we're ready to play for the community he just leaves outta nowhere going public not responding to anyone.

Then pops up in teamspeak 5 min later with hitman asking 2v2 pretty awesome imo.

If you are fighting for clanwars reputation you should have just played wether we would lose or win, this will make people lose faith in you.

Cheers,

excuse me, but i lost faith in clanwars' ability to play community matches a long time ago. that's why i specifically said (several times) that i didn't want to play for clanwars in community matches anymore. and that's community matches where i can organise things, pick the team etc, as opposed to being told i'm the captain of a match i didn't even say i wanted to play in. and when i don't want any of that, you lose faith in me? well, if that's what the faith you had in me was based on, you're better off without it.

Then why did you join teamspeak and started looking for people to play for cw.cc, then when people are all set up n stuff u leave?

And what exactly is your problem with the current cw.cc players?

k, cw.cc forfeited this round. both the "old" captain Mr.MoM and the "new" leader Spooky dont want to do anything with this league.

OS / NE didnt posted their rosters yet and didnt play yet.

Makes me think how much time we want to put into this.
We are ready for Jelly.

Plz get me right on this. I wish a fair tournament where every community get their chances. Just setting some more pressure on in to continue this league in playing instead of talking.

I'll captain cw.cc if its not too late and I get approval from the cw.cc administration. I can play our community war any afternoon this week, or this saturday at normal tourney time. Let us know if its not too late, I know theres a lot of players who would love to play in a good community war.

Smak Central (cw.cc forum) has been ddossed for about a week, but its up now so I know we can probably get a lot of players for this Saturday. I understand though if its too late, since the schedule was already extended once.
