So i was bored and wanted to learn something new with 3ds max.

I decided it would be best to learn the floating geometry and turbosmoothing and or splines.

I used this tutorial:

<http://cg.tutsplus.com/tutorials/3d-art/using-splines-to-add-detail-to-your-high-poly-model-in-3ds-max/>

Here are the results of mine

rly idk why people bitch about that all the time.

well guess what half of the Renegade players use Skins like that, there is a line green skin for proxys that i use, doesn't mean I'm using it to hack i just like the color i even made it darker than what it was.
