We were on walls_flying and I was GDI. Well I bought a hotwire and mined our base then thought "I'm going to destroy their buildings" And I thought I may not because they had a ton of peeps on their team. Well I ran through their tunnel and A soldier came in to.... I thought "awww s-hit he's gonna boink me" well to my surprise and delight he ran right by me! I emerged and dashed into their airstrip and layed my C4 and As I was exiting I saw the MVP at a PT and I dashed into that alcove in the airfield and hoped he didn't see me. He didn't. My timed charges detonated then I blew my remotes and took their airstrip out. I was left with 5 health because I was next to my charges hiding. So I ran out expecting to get boinked but I ended up going back to my base(killing 3 guys in the process) got a refill, bought an orca, another orca followed me and we destroyed their HoN. That was the most pure example of 1. idiots 2.dumbs-hit rambos. 3. sad,sad defense. BTW none of our structures got blown up!
