Are you tired of downloading stuff with low transfer rate? For example, your default download transfer rate is 500kbps but when you download, its downloading at 90kbps rate...
You need a "Download Accelerator Plus"
It boots your download rate up, up and UP!

(little advertisement, dude this program is awesome!)

Used it once, and never again. They are somewhat trying to force you to buy a premium version and it doesn't even work for everything. Direct linking, ok, but no rapidshare, megaupload or any other filehost.

I really cant see a program making your download speed higher... Its down to the ISP, time of day and the server you're requesting the data from.

It doesnt increase the normal download limit that the ISP gives. From most of the websites you download, it gives you a less transfer rate than what your isp gives you. Download accelerator makes it be like the one from isp.

It probably just makes multiple connections to the same server.

Yea it does. You can change the number of simultaneous connections yourself if you want to

EDIT: typo xD

I find Download Express by Metaproducts to be better and less bulky.

I thought that no one knew it, seems i'm a person thats left behind.
Anyways, ive completely removed Download Accelerator and installed Flash Get. Its much better, better speed and no advertisements. Its clean and free, and i didnt have to do this thing to it like i did to Download Accelerator.

I wouldn't use anything with accelerator or booster in it's name. Like ram booster
