Hi everyone!

Since I started playing Renegade I have used teamspeak.
Then teamspeak has been modified to put everyone who uses teamspeak onto the same team to increase the use of teamspeak and teamplay which is understandable.

My friend and myself have the same IP address....
Thus since then we have had major problems to get into the teamspeak team when both in game because of the bug which filters those with the same IP address and puts them almost all the time into the opposite team where we usually end up alone in teamspeak.

Therefore I kindly ask you to please fix this teamspeak bug that filters those with same IP ADDRESS!

Since teamspeak is essential for teamplay and fun of the game this really bugs me and I have considered to stop playing Renegade if the bug cannot be fixed. This however shouldn't really be a problem if someone cares about it.

Further I have noticed that many regulars have stopped playing. I am a very regular player on ns. The Renegade community should maybe consider putting some servers together, since there are too many servers on which the available players are spread.

I would be glad if my post gets some kind of resonance and some action about this problem is going to take place because I really love this game and would miss playing it.

But the way it is right now, esp. with the TS bug, it robs me every kind of enjoyment and fun that I had when I started playing Renegade on ns years ago.

I would also be happy to get answers from other players who face the same TS bug problem cause of same IP (I believe we are not the only ones out there...lol) to support my request.

Thank you for reading this post!

I think you should also post this on the NS forums.

Whatever server you're playing in that has that TeamSpeak bug where it teams you based on IP only, tell them about the plugin for SSGM on this download page here:
http://spencerelliott.co.uk/downloads.html
It teams people based on there IP and matching in-game nick.

It isn't a bug.

Edit: I stand corrected - I missunderstood what you were asking. Sorry. This should be at NS.
