On C&C_WallFlying.mix, if you are Nod, get someone to bring you to their Wep Fac in a transport heli. After you land on the top, hide by the smoke stacks, no one can see you there. Then peek down time to time and see if they make a vehicle. Kill the owner and steal it, or find a used one. Best one I stole was a hum-vee.(Mammoth had a driver)

If you want to nuke it that is. But then, if it's 9/10, wouldn't be better to walk on top the war fac with the stealth and then jump and capture a vehicle below.

I usually go to the Wep Fac with a few other players as SBH and we all hide in the base and distract them with C4 in the building far away while we attempt some kind of rush, then everyone is buying tanks to defend their base and that's where we SBHs come in Kirovy1234 Your tactic adds a nice new twist to the scheme of things. It ticks the enemy off and you gain a vehicle. It opens up all kinds of possibilities...
