Fast enough to dodge shell and can deliver enough fire power. Mammoth have loads of fire power but is too slow. Light tank you have to have a good driving and aiming skill to be good at it. Med tank is right in between and have the advantage of both.

Light tanks are nice, but Meds you've seen in news footage, on the net, etc. Brand recognition, only with military hardware.

The medium tank has the speed and maneuverability that the mammoth doesn't. Of course cost is another consideration...

I have another question along that topic, the recon bike. Now I know that this is a little late, but why would you want it in multiplayer? I agree it is fast, but by the time it reloads I could make a cup of coffee and be back in time. So unless someone makes some changes it's gonna be pretty disappointing.
